Cemetery Resource Protection Training

Saturday, September 12, 9 am - 11 am
Admission FREE; Class size Limited
Preregistration required by September 7 - CALL: (941) 741-4076

Join FLORIDA PUBLIC ARCHEOLOGY NETWORK staff to learn about cemetery care and preservation where you live.

Explore cemeteries as historical resources: conserving headstones and markers, managing cemetery landscapes, transcribing and more. Practice hands-on headstone cleaning.

Watch a fascinating demonstration of Ground Penetrating Radar (GPR). GPR provides a three-dimensional picture of sedimentary layers. When combined with other archeological and historical research techniques, GPR images can provide researchers with a better understanding of what may be concealed beneath the ground.

About FPAN

The Florida Public Archeology Network is a State funded organization administered by the University of West Florida in cooperation with the Florida Department of State Division of Historical Resources. It is dedicated to helping the public learn about Archeology and Florida’s rich cultural past. Regional centers around Florida serve as clearinghouses for information, institutions for learning and training, and headquarters for public participation in archaeology.
